Harold T. Hurt Named To Head Red Cross Fund Drive

The Calloway County Chapter of the American Red Cross announces the appointment of Harold T. Hurt, as 1970 March Fund Chairman. Hurt, attorney of the law firm of Hurt and Christopher, announced the campaign goal as $6585, or $600 less than the 1969 goal.

Red Cross work in the local area, he said, is primarily in those areas requested by congressional charter. Most important is in service to the military, in which the local chapter acts as liaison between the servicemen, their families, and the military authorities. Such duties as verification of facts for emergency leaves of servicemen, aiding in communications between families, and granting of loans to servicemen in emergency situations, are part of this service.

In addition, the local chapter is instrumental in supplying materials for the comfort of servicemen, such as the hundreds of Christmas gift bags sent to Vietnam annually, the birthday cakes, Christmas presents, books, games, magazines, sweaters, hot water bottle covers, walking cast socks, and many other items for the military hospitals in Ft. Campbell and Lexington.

The local chapter has also sent layettes for war orphans, contributions to Bifan relief, and aided veterans with loans, grants, and in filling for government benefits.

During the past year a "waiting wives" club was initiated by the Red Cross chapter here. The purpose of this club is to help fill the void in the social life of those whose husbands are away in the service, and to make available to them community help in solving everyday problems.

Stan Key Starts For UK Saturday

Adolph Rupp, University of Kentucky basketball coach, praised the work of Stan Key of Hazel in the Saturday night game at Oxford, Mississippi as UK whammed Mississippi 120 to 85.

Key started the game, the second start in his UK career. Key, a guard, held Ole Miss's scoring leader Ron Coleman to 10 points before fouling out with 13:36 in the game. Key also dumped in 8 points to aid the Kentucky cause.

Key sparked the Wildcats in a rally recently also against Auburn in a game that UK won by one point. In this game he netted five of six free throws and scored ten points.

Rupp has banked on Key as a strong reserve and started him in the Saturday fracas as well as in the game with Mississippi State.

Key was a star at Calloway County High School before entering UK.

Mazzoli, the chairman of the Kentucky Senate's Education Committee, said his proposal

Senate Vote On Reallocated Budget Scheduled Wednesday

RESCUE SQUAD FIREHOUSE on North Fourth Street, shown above, is among many of the expenses that the CD unit faces each year and funds are urgently needed by the unit. Many persons, like Charles Rains of Rains Sign Service, who is visible in the picture above, have donated both time and money during the past year which have been responsible for the squad's rapid growth. More funds are needed and an appeal is now underway.

Murray Rescue Squad Launches Fund Drive Here

The Murray-Calloway County CD Rescue Squad has launched a campaign to raise over $8,000 for expenses during the current year. Half of this money is to go toward annual truck payments and the purchase of additional hose for the new rural fire truck.

An appeal is being made to the citizens of Calloway County to help this organization which has grown tremendously during the past few years. Booster decals will be given to donors to display in their windows.

On Wednesday morning the Calloway fiscal court will be asked to consider an annual appropriation to the Rescue Squad which does work in search and rescue, fire fighting, disaster aid, and water rescue. The county government has made no contributions to the rescue squad in recent years according to a spokesman for the unit.

All activities of the rescue squad are financed by public contributions and the members receive no compensation for work or travel.

Donations may be mailed to the Murray Rescue Squad, P. O. Box 612, Murray, Ky.

Ken-Bar Buildings Damaged By Fire

Four buildings adjacent to Ken-Bar Inn near Kentucky Dam Village State Park were destroyed by fire shortly after midnight on Monday morning.

The buildings, owned by Ken-Bar Inn and leased to the occupants, were the Bank of Marshall County, the Tootin' Angel Shop, the Lady Fair Beauty Shop, and the Ken-Bar Resort Dinner Theater.

Also damaged in the fire were the kitchen and the Barkley Room at Ken-Bar Inn, D. W. McKinnis, Jr., manager said.

The manager said a night watchman discovered the fire in the four buildings at approximately 12:25. The cause of the fire and estimate of the damage has not been determined.

Bob Ross, executive vice-president of the Bank of Marshall County, said further damage to Ken-Bar Inn was averted by the efficient fire fighting effort of the Grand Rivers Fire Department. The Benton Fire Department was summoned but the fire was under control when it arrived, he said.

Ross said there was no customer loss at the branch bank as a result of the fire. A vault with lock boxes remained intact after the fire he added. The branch bank plans to reopen in the lobby of Ken-Bar Inn this week, Ross said.

Measure Removing Sales Tax From Prescriptions On Floor

By Glen Carpenter

FRANKFORT, Ky. (UP) — The Democratic substitute for Gov. Louie B. Nunn's executive budget reached the floor of the Senate intact Monday, but there were indications there is some thinking going on over the future of the Hazelwood Tuberculosis Hospital at Louisville.

And in other action, members of the Senate Judiciary Committee blasted a newspaper editorial in floor speeches which prompted an apology from the paper's general counsel, who also happens to be on the committee.

Prior to the Senate early evening session, the appropriations and revenue committee met to report out not only the reallocated $3.1 billion budget, but three companion bills including:

— Removal of the sales tax from prescription drugs.
— Elimination of the motor vehicle usage tax where basically no money changes hands.
— Hiking the distilled spirits tax from $1.28 to $1.92 per gallon.

The committee went into executive session to report the bill out, indicating that the testimony of several persons over the Hazelwood transfer had some effect. The hospital under the Democratic version of the executive budget, would be transferred to the Department of Mental Health for use by mentally retarded children.

Members of the hospital's staff and of the Tuberculosis Association of Kentucky had made a strong case during the open session of the committee meeting that four of the state's four other tuberculosis hospitals should be closed first, leaving Hazelwood and the Paris hospital operable.

The committee members were told Hazelwood and the Paris facility could absorb all the patients at the other four hospitals at a savings of $6 million annually.

Hazelwood is "heart" They further contended Hazelwood is the "heart" of the system with the best facilities including the largest surgical

Livestock Firm In Mayfield Ordered To Suspend Sales

MAYFIELD, Ky. (UP) — The U. S. Department of Agriculture Monday ordered the Mayfield Livestock and Sales Co. suspended from doing business for 30 days.

USDA officials said Chester, Kenneth and Roscoe Burgess, operators of the firm, had violated sections of the Packers and Stockyards Act in that they were falsely weighing livestock for sale.

The suspension was originally set to start May 21, 1969, but a stay was issued following an appeal to the Sixth Circuit U.S. Court of Appeals. The appellate court refused to review the case.

Seen & Heard Around Murray

In order for a person to achieve the best of mental health, we believe that he must feel he is either needed, or wanted, or that he is performing some task that contributes to the well being of somebody or some movement.

When all of these ingredients are missing, that's when we "get down in the dumps" or worse.

By getting involved in some worthwhile movement or task, a person then makes a contribution, is needed and even wanted.

Putting it another way, anyone who is all wrapped up in themselves makes a very small package.

The following was lifted from the WOW magazine of February.

"A man worked in a bakery and was paid by the loaf to slice bread. He had a regular knife and was slicing one loaf at a time. Then one day he went to a cutlery shop, bought a longer knife and sliced two loaves at a time, thus earning twice as much money.

Content for a time he began to think of doing three at a time. The cutlery shop, alas, was unable to supply a longer knife but the guy spotted a sword in an antique shop capable of the three-loaf task. So he began earning three times as much money as before.

Now for more money. The cutlery and antique shops were unable to help. One day he passed a butcher shop and saw a huge cleaver in the window that would cut four loaves of bread at one time... so he bought it. Walking down the street, cleaver under his arm in a package and smiling his best smile, a friend intercepted him and asked, "What are you so happy about? This must be

Six Bills Pass House Of Representatives Monday

By CHARLES PENTECOST
FRANKFORT, Ky. (UP) — The House of Representatives Monday passed six bills including one exempting teachers and other school board employees from the statute prohibiting conflicts of interest of public officers and employees.

The bill, HB 34, passed by a vote of 76-7, with nine House members, including several who are teachers, not voting. The House also adopted four resolutions Monday, including one to adjourn in honor of former Gov. Keen Johnson, of Richmond, who died Saturday.

Rep. Marris Allen May, D-Pikeville, said the bill to exempt teachers from the provisions of the conflict of interest law and allow them to run for the legislature had been worked out in cooperation with the state attorney general. He said teachers in the past had felt there was no conflict in their serving in the legislature, but there had been recent questions as to whether teachers could be considered employees of a state agency.

May said the bill "merely removes this confusion." But Rep. Norbert Blume, D-Louisville, who opposed the bill, said that in 1968 educators and teacher-members of the General Assembly voted to raise the state sales tax from three to five cents on the dollar. He

Washington State Falls To UCLA 72-70; Kentucky Wins

By GARY KALE
UPI Sports Writer

It took sophomore Henry Bibby's steel nerves to offset an ironman performance by Washington State that threatened No. 1 UCLA's unbeaten string.

Washington State used just five men throughout the game and held the upper hand until 2:43 remained before bowing to UCLA, 72-70, Monday night. Bibby's two free throws with 10 seconds left proved the decisive points.

The Cougars were ahead, 36-30, at halftime and at one point in the second half mounted a nine-point lead. But Bibby ended State's bid to snap UCLA's 17-game winning streak when his jumper lifted the Bruins to a 66-65 lead with less than three minutes remaining.

Bibby's two free throws in the closing seconds were all the more meaningful because Rick Erickson scored for the Cougars at the buzzer.

The talented Bibby was UCLA's high scorer with 22 points. Erickson led Washington State with 28 and Gary Elliot tallied 21.

Second-ranked South Carolina extended its winning streak to 17 by ripping Wake Forest, 81-54; No. 3 Kentucky routed Mississippi State, 86-57; fifth-ranked New Mexico State won its 19th of the year, 97-73, over Montana State, eighth-ranked North Carolina edged sixth-ranked North Carolina State 88-86, and Pete Maravich netted ed 49 points as Louisiana State beat Tulane for the 100th time, 127-114.

So, Carolina Cruised John Roche and Tom Owens, part of South Carolina's New York City subway undergraduate class, each scored 24 points against Wake Forest. Roche hit on his first three outside shots and South Carolina never trailed. Charlie Davis led the losing Deacons with 22 points.

Even with starting guard Dick McGowan and reserve center Randy Poole out of the lineup for disciplinary reasons, Kentucky managed to make a shambles of the Mississippi State defense. Coach Adolf Rupp said the suspended players would not suit up again. Mike Pratt paced the Wildcats with 26 points and center Dan Issel contributed 17. John Guyton led State with 21 points.

Jimmy Collins scored 10 consecutive points just before intermission for New Mexico State's 45-33 halftime lead and continued the attack in the final 20 minutes to score a game high 31 points against Montana State. Sam Lacy added 20 points and grabbed 20 rebounds for the Aggies as Montana State suffered its 16th loss in 17 games this season.

Neighborhood went out the window at Chapel Hill as North Carolina clawed its way to victory over North Carolina State behind Charlie Scott's 33 points and 13 rebounds. The Tar Heels ripped off a 10-0 tear to tie the score at 74-all in the second half and then went ahead on Scott's five key points. Van Williford led the Wolfpack with 23 points.

Maravich brought his career total to 3,206 points as he hit on 18 of 45 field goal attempts and netted 13 of 15 free throws against Tulane. He scored 69 points last Saturday against Alabama.

In other games, Ashland, the nation's No. 2 small college, rolled passed Hillsdale, 67-51, behind Wayne Sokolowski's 20

NEW YORK (UPI)—Danny Murtaugh has good sense. Also good manners.

As owner of both these qualities, you'd never figure him for the type to go up and pick an argument with one of his friends without reason, but that's what he seemed to be doing.

"You're nuts for going back to managing," he said quietly to white-haired Bill Rigney, who returns to managing this season with the Minnesota Twins after having been out a half year.

Danny Murtaugh, who is going back to managing himself with the Pittsburgh Pirates after having "retired" five years ago, repeated what he had said to Rigney but the Twins' new manager didn't hear him.

The incident took place at a get-together of all the major league managers during the winter baseball meetings. Danny Murtaugh and Bill Rigney are good friends, and the Pittsburgh manager was only trying to tease the Minnesota manager.

Murtagh Bucked The Odds

"I was doing a little agitating," Murtagh laughed. He knows what it is to be agitated—about why he's coming back to manage.

He's 52, not 32. He already has won a world championship with Pittsburgh, in 1960. He had a good job, he wasn't starving and what does he need all these headaches for? His friends tell him to remember the heart trouble which prompted him to retire as Pirates' manager in 1964.

"I'd say the whole idea of my possibly coming back to manage started six or seven months ago," Danny Murtagh says.

went to my doctor and after he gave me a complete checkup, he looked at me and said, 'You can do anything you want.'

"I said, 'Including managing?' and he said, 'Hell, yes!' Well, I kidded my wife about it and it probably would've ended right there, but after Larry Shepard was let go, Joe Brown (the Pirates' general manager) came to our Florida instructional camp in Bradenton and I asked him if he had anyone specifically in mind for the job. He said it was up in the air. I asked Joe would he consider me? He was surprised."

He Missed The Action Until he decided to manage again, Murtagh served as director of player acquisition and development with the Pirates or "chief cook and bottle washer," as he puts it.

"Did I miss managing? You bet I did. I missed the competitiveness of it. The camaraderie, too. Both among your own team, and the enemy."

Murtagh's anxious to get going again. Before he retires for good, he says he'd like to do one more thing. "Win another world championship for the city of Pittsburgh."

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI)—Bruce Devlin of Australia shot a six-under-par 66 to win the $125,000 Bob Hope Desert Classic by four strokes over Larry Ziegler.

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Rod Laver beat fellow Australian Tony Roche 6-3, 7-6, 6-2 to win the $10,000 first prize in the $60,000 International Tennis Players Association championships. Mrs. Margaret Smith Court of Australia took the women's title with a 6-3, 7-6 triumph over Billy Jean King of Long Beach, Calif.

OFFICIAL WORD ON PILOTS IS EXPECTED TODAY

By ED SAINSBURY
UPI Sports Writer

CHICAGO (UPI)—Prospective purchasers of the Seattle Pilots aiming to keep the team in its present location should get the official word today from American League owners.

The owners will attend a special session called by League President Joe Cronin solely to deal with what happens to the Pilots, and it was certain there'd be some onlookers on hand from Milwaukee and Dallas-Fort Worth, hoping to grab the franchise if Seattle can't hang on to it.

But prospects looked good for hotel magnate Edward Carlson, who has become the strong man in local groups seeking to keep the Pilots franchise in Seattle. Reportedly Carlson and his associates have completed arrangements to finance the club.

They have to come up with $9 million to buy out the current owners, William Daley of Cleveland, and Dewey Soriano of Seattle, and to assure the other owners of their continued financial solvency.

It was understood that one of the problems, a loan of $3.5 million from the Bank of California to the current franchise, had been solved by arrangements to renegotiate. The loan was understood to be part of the $9 million.

Carlson said that his efforts for local backing had topped $6 million, indicating that the financial situation could be straightened out.

How can she pay her 'debt'?

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: There's a man who works where I work. We kid around a lot, but he's not a boyfriend or anything like that.

Well, about four months ago I told him he would be real swell looking if he would lose about 30 pounds. Then he said he'd make a deal with me. He would lose 30 pounds if I would give him an "incentive"—like spending the night with him.

I foolishly said it was a deal—never dreaming he'd lose the 30 pounds.

Well, Abby, he has lost 22 pounds, and I know he'll lose the other 8 in no time at all. I never thought I would ever have to pay off. Now what do I do?

DEAR BIGMOUTH: Spend the night with him, and use the time playing records, reading poetry, or just explaining what you meant by "spending the night" with him. If he complains, let him haul you into small claims court.

DEAR ABBY: Is it possible for a man to be in love with two women at the same time?

DEAR JAKE: Yes. And also hazardous.

DEAR ABBY: I know that parents are supposed to treat all their children alike, but we can't help favoring our eldest. Heidi is 16 and she is a beautiful child, inside and out! Heidi is not only a top student, she is helpful around the house, good natured and trustworthy. She's never given us a minute's worry.

Our middle child, Sally, is 13. She is selfish, lazy, and stubborn. Even with tutoring she can't make her grades.

Our youngest, Danny, is 9. He's smarter than both girls put together but he is a little troublemaker. He'd rather lie than tell the truth, and he won't let anybody touch him or kiss him.

Everyone notices that we are partial to Heidi, and we are always getting lectures from the grandparents on how we should "love" all our children the same. But how can we?

FEELING GUILTY

DEAR FEELING: You are reacting in a normal manner. So don't feel guilty. It's not possible to love all one's children equally because all children are not equally "lovable." But concentrate a little more on the least "lovable"—they're the ones who need love the most.

DEAR ABBY: Your "Confidential to MGM" in which you stated that President Nixon ignored YOUR letter, too, was reassuring. Here all along I've been blaming the Post Office Department!

I have written six letters to President Nixon in the past year, and have not received one acknowledgement. All my letters were respectful, tho somewhat critical of his policies.

It would be interesting to learn whether the President and his staff ignore ALL correspondence, or only those letters which are critical of his administration.

IGNORED IN LOUISVILLE

CONFIDENTIAL TO "TORTURED WITH QUESTIONS": A man who continually presses his wife (or girl friend) for every single detail of her past romantic encounters with other men ("tell me the exact words you spoke, the words he spoke, what position were you in at the time, what was he wearing, etc.") could be attempting to "live" the experience himself, vicariously. I would suspect his masculinity.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

Banish Dingy Elbows

If your elbows have taken on the rough, tough look of winter months, begin now to bring back the softness you will want when warmer weather finally arrives.

Elbows, like the backs of your hands and your heels, are probably part of the body's driest areas, and show signs of aging fairly early. Treat them to a soapsuds friction in your bath, scrubbing them with a nailbrush to take off dry, flaky particles of skin.

Offset the gray and dingy appearance by pouring a quantity of lemon skin freshener into the cupped palm of one hand and massaging it into the skin of the opposite elbow with a firm, circular movement. The natural tanning and bleaching properties of lemons can bring the fresh, rosy color back to sallow, discolored skin in double-quick time.

Now your elbows will be ready for a smoothing, nourishing vitalizing cream. Choose one with a moist oil base such as olay, for really rapid results. Work the cream systematically into the rough and wrinkled areas.

Since one or two applications can't be expected to counteract a long stretch of neglect, start a regular routine of cream care that will keep your elbows constantly in beautiful shape.

If you want to save pennies per pound on one of the best bargain main dishes going, learn to cut up chicken yourself.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — If the offspring from one pair of houseflies all survived and reproduced normally for six months, there would be 191,000,000,000,000,000,000,000 flies, enough to cover the earth to a depth of 47 feet, says the National Geographic.

Due to begin operations before the end of 1970, the fleet will consist in its early stages of six vessels, all of Japanese make and in the 12,400-ton class.

service, Hurt continued is that of aid to the victims of disaster such as fire, flood, tornado, hurricane, or any calamity in which five or more families are involved. Last year, when Hurricane Camille struck the Gulf Coast, seven local families requested aid from the chapter in determining the welfare of relatives in that area. This community, struck by tornadoes in 1964 and 1968, has received relief and rehabilitation aid from other chapters in the nation, and thus responded with donations for the stricken Gulf area.

The local Red Cross chapter maintains a broad adult educational program. Certified instructors teach water safety, including swimming and lifesaving, first aid, home nursing, and mother and baby care. These are made available to the public and are also taught in the university and high schools.

Forty four uniformed Red Cross Volunteers (formerly the Gray Ladies) serve without pay daily at the local hospital and convalescent ward. At the hospital's request they work at the information desk, in X-ray, in diet selection, and by delivering patient's mail.

Two afternoons a week groups of Volunteers provide recreation and devotional periods for older citizens in the convalescent ward. By doing so they provide "something extra" for these patients while relieving paid staff for other duties.

"The war in Vietnam continues," concluded Hurt, "and locally we must continue to support our servicemen and their families. The Red Cross is supported solely by voluntary donations. I urge you to be generous in your contribution. Each of you will be contacted, either through the Advanced Gift committee, through your business or school, in person or by mail. Please show the interest and support which has been received in the past."

Hurt is married to the former Jean Squifflet of Harrodsburg, Kentucky who teaches the 4th grade at Robertson School. They live in Riverwood Subdivision.

Other officials of the drive will be appointed at a later date and the drive will be officially opened soon, according to Hurt and chapter officials.

Today's Stock Market

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks opened mixed today in moderate trading.

Hopes for lower interest rates sparked much of the demand for stocks last week and on Monday, but analysts noted that barring definite news that credit restrictions are easing, "the upswing is not likely to have any sustaining power."

Shortly after the opening, the UPI marketwide indicator was up 0.11 per cent on 306 issues crossing the tape. Of these 108 advanced and 81 declined.

American Telephone opened off 1/4 to 49 1/2, but Western Union gained 3/4 to 40 1/4, and Universal Oil Products was 1 1/4 higher at 33 1/2.

Memorex added 1 1/4 to 124 1/2, with Walt Disney up 1/2 to 151. Itex dipped 1/4 to 84.

Boeing rose 3/4 to 21 1/4 on a block of 11,000 shares in the aerospace group. United Aircraft dipped 1/4 to 30.

In the electronics, IBM edged up 1/4 to 350, while Control Data climbed 2 1/2 to 73 1/2. Westinghouse 3/4 to 58 1/2 and Zenith 1/4 to 30 1/2. RCA dipped 1/4 to 30 1/2, Litton 1/4 to 26 1/4.

General Motors lost 1/4 to 66, Ford 3/4 to 39 1/2. Chrysler added 1/4 to 26 1/2.

In the steels, U.S. Steel eased 1/4 to 33 1/2, with Bethlehem down 1/4 to 27 1/2.

Speaker Defends Role

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Speaker John W. McCormack defended his leadership of the House and said a "dissenting Democrat's" proposed vote of no confidence was a "case of ingratitude."

The 78-year-old Massachusetts lawmaker, under increasing challenge by the party's younger members, said no one had supported progressive legislation more vigorously than the current House leadership team.

He said his alleged failure in the eyes of Rep. Jerome R. Waldie (D. Cal.), who has called for the no confidence vote at a Feb. 18 caucus, apparently is that he has exercised his authority in too kind a fashion.

"Apparently kindness on my part is no virtue to him," the speaker told newsmen in a delayed reply to Waldie's announcement.

Sort of like the man who introduced Herbert Hoover and called him Hoobert Heever.

Now, to the reader who called our attention to the fact that there is no stop sign at Main and Seventh. We called the city clerk about it and he will call this to the attention of the State Highway Department. The city is responsible for stop signs, etc. within the city, however wherever a state highway is involved, then it is the duty of the state to put up the sign. Main Street is a state maintained highway and is state highway 94. Fourth Street is U. S. 641.

Anyway the sign will be put up soon. This particular sign was not the job of the city, but the State Highway Department.

Quote of the Week: "America's balance sheet is good. Whatever our problems, this is still the best place in the world in which to live. We don't build barriers and fences to keep people from leaving the United States. Instead, millions of people from less fortunate countries are clamoring to get in. America must be doing something right, despite what the critics may say." —Rep. Thomas S. Kleppe of North Dakota.

would recommend:

—A $160 raise in annual resident tuition at the University of Kentucky, to $440.

—A $152 raise in non-resident tuition at UK to $1,162.

—A $120 raise in annual tuition for Kentucky students at the state's regional universities to $350, and —A $163 raise in the annual rate for non-resident students at the same institution to $963.

Mazzoli, who criticized the council for trying to impose a burden on the taxpayer for higher education, said the additional $14 million the raises would produce would go into the General Fund for legislative disposition.

Dr. Adron Doran, president of Morehead State University, warned that Mazzoli's proposed increases might prevent many Kentucky students from going to college. The council has estimated that 80 percent of students at state schools come from families with less than $8,000 income a year.

Mazzoli said his raise would only bring Kentucky schools to the median tuition rate for schools in the surrounding states.

units and finest laboratory. They said to replace such facilities in the other hospitals would require expenditures of at least $750,000.

The Democratic leadership had felt the Hazelwood hospital should be turned over to mental health because as a T-B hospital, it was only operating at about 50 per cent bed capacity.

After the executive session, committee chairman C. Gibson Rowning, D-Lexington, said the committee "wants to see where it is going" and indicated there may be an amendment added to give new life to Hazelwood, although he wouldn't be specific.

The budget and the three companion bills are scheduled for a vote Wednesday.

The editorial, which appeared in Monday's Lexington Herald, was titled "The Public Right to Know" and was written by editor Don Mills. In it, Mills suggests the Senate Judiciary Committee might close its meetings for the debate over the bill to regulate bail bondsmen, which is now before the House.

"If indeed it is planning to close its sessions to the press and public it would be wise to drop the idea," the editorial said. "The public has a right to know what the committee members do in regard to the bail bond legislation as well as said they voted "knowing full well" that the governor had promised the Kentucky Education Association (KEA) a portion of the increase would go to raise teachers' salaries.

Also passed Monday by a vote of 75-13, was HB-139, providing that physicians' fees in sanitariums shall be paid by the defendant, or the county if the person is indigent.

The other four bills were passed unanimously.

HB-208 would allow Kentucky's code of military justice to be amended to conform with the federal code, and HB-276, as amended, would permit lending institutions to qualify as mortgages and make loans such as the Federal Housing Administrator and the Administrator of Veterans Affairs insure.

HB-114, applying provisions relating to the Commission on the Employment of the Handicapped to all handicapped persons rather than only the physically handicapped, was approved, 83-0.

And HB-185 changes the name of municipal housing commissions to housing authorities and permits the establishment of city-county housing authorities.

The House, by voice vote, adopted HR-39, setting up an innovative education task force requested last week by Gov. Louie B. Nunn.

Among new House bills introduced Monday were:

HB-427 — Repealing the fair trade contract provisions of the state statutes affecting the sale of alcoholic beverages.

HB-422 — Directing the State Highway Department to paint white lines on the outside borders of all public roads and highways.

HB-426 — Prohibiting the construction of any structure in zoned air space near airports over 1,000 feet high, except with the approval of the Kentucky Airport Zoning Commission.

HB-425 — Providing for the annual election of one member of the Louisville Division of Police and one fireman to the Louisville Civil Service Board.

Senate Raising On Inter

By GLEN CARPENTER

FRANKFORT, Ky. — The state Senate approved Tuesday a bill to raise the present legal rate in an effort to money market in Kentucky.

The measure provided a 7 per cent ceiling on interest rates on loans of 9 per cent for loans of less. Above that figure would depend on what the market was doing at the time it was agreed upon, it was approved, but only after the amendment was added and defeated.

The amendment added by Sen. Edwin F. Harrodsburg, increased the point for rate levels.
